COVENTRY—Coventry High school will hold its seventh annual “Breakfast with Santa,” tomorrow.

Matthew Brisette said it will be held at the High School from 8 to 11:30 a.m.

He said just like the past events, children are treated to much more than just a breakfast with the “jolly old elf” and has become very popular in the town the last few years.

“We have a great breakfast of eggs, bacon, sausage, toast, danish, milk, juice, coffee and hot chocolate,” he said. “And not only do parents and children get an all you can eat breakfast but they also get an opportunity to make crafts and play.”

Brisette said the cost is $7 for adults, $5 for children ages 3 to 5 and free for those 1 to 2. Areeg Eid, senior, said the event is organized by all four class executive boards and any other interested students.

“I love it,” she said. “A lot of parents come in with their children and we have face painting, a moon bounce playhouse, lots of games set up and pictures with Santa and the other characters that will be there.”

She said the students from Coventry High School will also be dressed up and along with Santa, there will also be Mrs. Claus, all nine reindeer, the Grinch and Cindy Lou Hoo available to greet children and have their photo taken..

Eid said she is excited about the breakfast and she is glad to help create this special event for local families.

“When I was little I used to go and get my face painted and saw the high school seniors working and helping out, I imagined that I would be able to so that someday,” she said. “Now I get to be the senior helping out. The kids really love it.”

Brisette added the professional photos will be available from Katherine Hellman photography and the proceeds will go towards the school's annual scavenger/treasure hunt.
