

Reading into holiday

At Coventry's Hopkins Hill Elementary School

LEFT: (l-r) Bella Verrastro, Sarah Henault and Kylie Rear-don read to 1st graders

Dr. Donna Raptakis' fifth grade class at Hopkins Hill Elementary School (below) read books that they made to Pre-K, 1st and 2nd grade students on Wednesday. They dressed as pilgrims as they showed off the books they illustrated about the Pilgrims and Indians on Thanksgiving. Raptakis said the idea was created after the class went on a field trip to the Pequot Museum and using that new knowledge the students created a Venn diagram about how their lives and the lives of the Pilgrims were similar and different.

Jessica Boisclair • Daily Times

