

Max-ed Out For Recycling

TIOGUE ELEMENTARY GETS LESSONS FROM MAX MAN

Max Man, the Rhode Island Resource Recovery Center's recycling hero, educates students at Coventry's Tiogue Elementary School on the do's and don't's of recycling at a program performed at the school last Friday.

Kendra Leigh Miller • Daily Times

KENDRA LEIGH MILLER
kmiller@ricentral.com

COVENTRY — Max Man, the recycling hero from the Rhode Island Resource Recovery Center, visited Tiogue Elementary School Friday to educate the students about what should be recycled versus what is trash and how things that are recycled, can be made into other things as well as what the repercussion are if people don't recycle.

School Principal Louise Seitsinger said it was a school-wide event that just brings the message home to the students about how to help the environment.

"We make every effort here at Tiogue to recycle and we do have paper recycling in every classroom which does get taken away each week," she said.

One of the many facts Max stated was if every aluminum can was recycled in the state for the months of June, July and August, there would be enough cans to rebuild every airplane in the country.